

First Nations Health Authority
Health through wellness

EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY

Planner, Primary Care and e-Health
West Vancouver, BC

The First Nations Health Authority is a diverse and transformational health organization of professional, innovative and dedicated team members and leaders. The first of its kind in Canada, FNHA works as a health-and-wellness partner with BC First Nations to support self-determination and decision-making to improve health outcomes.

The Planner, Primary Care and e-Health, provides communications, collaboration, coordination and planning support to the functions of e-Health programs. In serving a provincial role, the Planner will work with the Director, Primary Care and e-Health, in advancing e-Health programs, supporting collaboration with local and regional teams within FNHA and other partners. Additionally, the role will ensure that e-health programs and resources are effectively integrated, organized, and leveraged to meet strategic and operational needs within the regions and across the province.

The work of the Planner, Primary Care and e-Health, is undertaken in collaboration with other departments within FNHA and in with partner organizations. As such, the role of the Planner, Primary Care and e-Health, requires an ability to work in a cross-functional organizational matrix approach, in both daily work and on project/initiative-based efforts, with the intent to maximize support to Regional Offices as well as FNHA departments.

Education & Experience

University degree in a relevant field of study (e.g., Health Information Science, Community Planning, Business Administration) or an equivalent combination of education, training and experience.

4 years of experience in a planning capacity, in particular, in eHealth or Primary Care.
